BILL COWHER

Head Coach
Fourteenth Season

The longest-tenured head coach in the NFL, Bill Cowher begins his 14th season as coach of his hometown Steelers.

Cowher ranks ninth in NFL history for longest head-coaching service with one team.

But not only is he one of the veteran coaches in the NFL, Cowher is one of the league's most successful.

In 13 seasons under Cowher, the Steelers have earned nine postseason berths, captured eight division titles, advanced to five AFC Championship games and made one Super Bowl appearance. He is one of only six coaches in NFL history to claim at least eight division titles.

Cowher, 48, ascended the coaching ranks from a special teams coach to defensive coordinator to become one of the youngest head coaches in NFL history.

Cowher's coaching career has been a model of consistency. In 13 seasons, he has missed the playoffs just four times.

Cowher joined the legendary Paul Brown as the only head coach to lead a team to the playoffs in each of his first six seasons. Additionally, Cowher's .627 regular-season winning percentage (130-77-1) ranks fourth among active coaches with at least 75 victories. Cowher's overall record is an impressive 138-86-1 (.613), which ranks fourth among active coaches.

Cowher earned his 50th regular-season win Nov. 3, 1996, in his 73rd game to become the eighth-fastest coach in NFL history to reach that mark. He claimed his 100th regular-season coaching victory in a 16-13 overtime win versus Cleveland (Sept. 29, 2002). His 100th win overall came--including postseason--came Dec. 21, 2001 vs. Minnesota. Cowher has won 138 games as a head coach, and moved into second in team victories behind Chuck Noll (209 wins) during his fifth season when he recorded his 52nd win. In 1997, Cowher surpassed Ray Parker's 105 games coached for the second-most games (213) as the Steelers head coach, trailing only Noll (366 games).

During Cowher's tenure, the Steelers have featured a trademark running attack and a solid, aggressive defense. In 13 years, the team has averaged a league-leading 135 rushing yards a game and has rushed for more yards (28,088) than any team in the NFL during that period, the only club to rush for more than 28,000 yards. In that same period, the offense has churned out a league-high 90 100-yard rushing games—followed by Dallas' 81.

Cowher has built a defense that mirrors his fiery attitude. In the 208 regular-season games since becoming head coach, the defense has allowed an average of 94.3 rushing yards a game and 193.2 yards passing.

The 2004 season may be regarded as Cowher's finest head-coaching performance. Despite numerous injuries—to many key positions such as quarterback, nose tackle and running back—the Steelers established a club-record 15-1 season, the most regular-season wins in NFL history for an AFC team. Additionally, he captured his eighth divisional title in 13 years and advanced to the AFC Championship for the fifth time as the Steelers' head coach, clinching home field advantage throughout the playoffs for the fourth time.

As a result, Cowher was named The Sporting News' Coach of the Year in a vote by NFL head coaches.

The 2003 season began with high expectations and a spectacular season-opening performance versus AFC-North rival Baltimore, the eventual division champion. Injuries, especially along the offensive line, and inconsistency disrupted the season. Though the Steelers' two-year reign as division champs ended, they battled to the very end, another trademark of Cowher's teams. The season-finale at Baltimore, which had no standings implications, was a classic and ended in a Ravens' 13-10 overtime victory.

In 2002, Cowher once again led the Steelers to the postseason. Entering the season as heavy favorites for the Super Bowl, the Steelers staggered to a 0-2 and 1-3 start. But, Cowher's intuitive change at starting quarterback—from Kordell Stewart to backup Tommy Maddox—sparked the Steelers, who won nine of their remaining 12 games to capture the first AFC North Championship and compile a 10-5-1 record. The Steelers defeated the Cleveland Browns in the AFC Wild Card game before losing the AFC Divisional playoff game in overtime to the host Tennessee Titans, 34-31.

Cowher guided the Steelers back to the postseason in 2001 after a three-year absence. Despite predictions to the contrary, the team captured its 15th AFC Central crown—the sixth under Cowher—and posted an AFC best 13-3 regular-season record.

After achieving great success in his first six seasons as the Steelers head coach, the team experienced two subpar seasons in 1998 and '99, and missed the playoffs again in 2000.

Determined to reverse the fortunes of the previous three seasons, Cowher rededicated himself—and the team. He instilled a commitment and focus that were earmarks of teams from Cowher's first six campaigns. A rigorous offseason conditioning program and an intense, physical training camp characterized the 2001 team.

After a humiliating 21-3 season-opening defeat to the Jacksonville Jaguars in Florida, the Steelers developed a resolve over the course of the next three weeks that led the team on a journey of success.

The tragic events of Sept. 11, 2001, coupled with an NFL scheduled bye week, gave the Steelers an unusual three-week reprieve. While some teams may have been affected adversely from the layoff, the Steelers re-energized and refocused to win 13 of their last 15 games en route to the AFC Championship game—the fourth appearance under Cowher.

Through all of Cowher's successes, the 2000 season could rate as one of his finest coaching performances. After two non-playoff seasons and many predicting a similar fate in 2000, the Steelers lost the first three games of the year, and the critics seemed prophetic. But, Cowher once again met the challenge and rallied the team to a 9-4 finish, a surge that kept the Steelers in playoff contention until the last game of the season.

The 1999 season marked Cower's second straight losing season. In a year that began with a 2-0 start and high expectations, the 1999 Steelers ended with a lackluster 1-7 finish and a 6-10 record, the worst of his career.

In 1998, Cowher experienced unchartered territory. For the first time in his head-coaching career, the Steelers did not make the playoffs. Nevertheless, despite several key injuries throughout the season, especially along the offensive line, the team remained competitive and had opportunities to clinch a playoff berth until the 15th week of the season.

The elements heading into 1997 didn't favor the Steelers. Ten key players departed from the previous season, a new defensive coordinator was hired and a first-year quarterback took control of the offense. Still, the Steelers overcame those obstacles to post an 11-5 record, and Cowher led his team to their third home AFC Championship game in four seasons. After defeating New England (7-6), the Steelers season ended with a 24-21 loss to the eventual-Super Bowl Champion Denver Broncos.

While the 1996 outcome didn't compare to the Super Bowl appearance of the previous season, it might have been one of Cowher's best coaching jobs at that point of his young career. For the second straight season, Cowher was forced to overcome losses of key starting personnel on a team that already featured a re-tooled offense. During the course of the season, the Steelers had 14 starters miss 64 starts due to injury. Those adjustments forced Cowher to play 40 different starters throughout the season. Despite this adversity, Cowher led the Steelers to their fifth-consecutive playoff berth and their fourth AFC Central title in five seasons.

In 1995, at the age of 38, Cowher became the youngest head coach to lead his team to a Super Bowl. Along the way, Cowher's team captured its third AFC Central Division title in four years, made its fourth straight playoff appearance, and won the Steelers' first AFC title since 1979.

The Steelers' 11-5 regular-season record was the second best in the AFC, which exceeded the expectations of most. In the offseason, the team lost seven veterans through free agency and trades. They had to play four games without starting quarterback Neil O'Donnell and almost the entire season without 1994's starting cornerbacks Deon Figures and Rod Woodson, a perennial All-Pro. In addition, linebacker Chad Brown missed six games after a phenomenal start.

Despite the setbacks, Cowher was able to rally his team from a near-disastrous 3-4 start to an NFL-best eight-game winning streak and a bye in the first round of the playoffs. This was accomplished with a major change in both offensive and defensive strategies, as the Steelers made key adjustments to compensate for their personnel losses.

The 1995 Steelers led the AFC in scoring with 407 points and set eight new offensive team records. They also led the NFL in time of possession (an average of 32:36). On defense, they established new team marks for fewest yards allowed rushing and fewest yards per game rushing (82.6/game). Their 22 interceptions were second most in the NFL.

In 1994, the Steelers won 12 regular-season games (most in the AFC) en route to winning the Central division title and hosting the AFC Championship Game. The Steelers won their first NFL rushing title since 1976 and the defense ranked second in the league, while compiling an NFL best 55 sacks. Cowher recorded his first postseason win by defeating Cleveland, 29-9, on January 7, 1995, in the Divisional Playoff game. The Steelers came up three yards short in the AFC Championship Game, losing to San Diego (17-13).

The 1993 Steelers started slowly at 0-2, but six wins in the next seven games brought the team to a 6-3 mark and first place in the AFC Central division. On the final weekend of the regular season the Steelers claimed the final AFC Wild-Card berth after winning three of the last five games. Offensively, the team finished with the exact same AFC rankings as the previous year, but it improved from 21st to 13th in NFL passing rankings. The defense jumped from eighth to first in AFC total defense rankings, and from 17th to third in NFL run defense.

Cowher was introduced as the Steelers' head coach on January 21, 1992, 26 days after the retirement of Hall of Fame coach Chuck Noll. At the age of 34, Cowher was two years younger than Noll was upon becoming the Steelers' head coach in 1969.

Cowher returned to his hometown following seven years as an assistant under Marty Schottenheimer in Cleveland and Kansas City. His appointment as the Steelers' head coach immediately followed a three-year stint as defensive coordinator and linebackers coach for the Chiefs.

Cowher has 25 years of NFL experience, including five as a player, seven as an assistant coach and 13 as a head coach.

In his first 13 years of coaching, Cowher had never been associated with a team that posted a losing record. In fact, in 15 of his 20 seasons as a coach, Cowher's teams have advanced to the playoffs.

In his first year as head coach, Cowher was selected as the 1992 National Football League's Coach of the Year by the Associated Press and The Sporting News. Cowher was also named Pittsburgh's Man of the Year in Sports by the Dapper Dan Club. He directed the Steelers to their first AFC Central Division crown in eight years with an 11-5 record, the team's best mark since they last won a Super Bowl in 1979. One of four AFC teams to win 11 games in 1992, the Steelers shared the best record in the conference as Cowher became one of only 12 coaches in NFL history to win 11 games in his first season as head coach.

Cowher began his coaching career in 1985 with the Cleveland Browns. At age 28, he was the league's second-youngest assistant coach.

He served on Schottenheimer's staff as the Browns' special teams coach in 1985-86 and secondary coach in 1987-88. As secondary coach, Cowher's 1987 group produced 23 interceptions to tie for third in the AFC, while in 1988 the Cleveland defense ranked fourth overall in the conference. The following year Cowher joined Schottenheimer on the Kansas City coaching staff.

In 1989, Cowher's first season as a 32-year-old defensive coordinator, the Kansas City defense led the AFC and ranked second in the NFL in total defense. The following year the unit led the league in three categories with 60 sacks, 25 fumbles recovered and 45 takeaways. In 1991 the Chiefs ranked third in the conference and fifth overall in the NFL en route to a 10-6 finish and a Wild-Card playoff berth.

A former linebacker and special teams standout, Cowher enjoyed a five-year NFL playing career with the Browns (1980-82) and the Philadelphia Eagles (1983-84). He signed with Philadelphia in 1979 as an undrafted free-agent rookie, but was the last linebacker waived in training camp after playing in three preseason games. The following year he signed with Cleveland and earned a roster spot, playing in all 16 games, including two starts at inside linebacker.

Cowher sat out the 1981 campaign after suffering a season-ending knee injury in the third preseason game. Returning in 1982 as special teams captain, he started at outside linebacker in two games while playing in all nine contests.

Cowher was traded to Philadelphia prior to the start of the 1983 season (Aug. 21) for a ninth-round draft pick. He was selected the Eagles most valuable special teams player that year and played in all 16 games. In 1984, a knee injury kept him out of all but four games and ended his career as a player. Cowher returned to Cleveland the following season and began his coaching career as a member of Schottenheimer's Browns staff.

Cowher grew up in the Crafton area, west of Pittsburgh. He is a 1975 graduate of Carlynton High School, where he excelled in football, basketball and track. He was selected honorable mention All-State in football as a senior before moving on to North Carolina State, where he earned four letters and was a three-year starter at linebacker. As a senior in 1978, Cowher was selected team captain and Most Valuable Player after leading the defense in tackles for the second straight year. He also received the 1978 Cary Brewbaker Award as the school's outstanding defensive lineman as selected by the coaching staff. In 1979, Cowher graduated with a bachelor of science degree in education.

William Laird Cowher was born May 8, 1957 in Pittsburgh. It was at North Carolina State that Cowher met his wife, Kaye. Also a graduate of North Carolina State, Kaye and her twin sister Faye played professional basketball for the New York Stars of the Women's Professional Basketball League. The Cowhers have three daughters: Meagan Lyn (19), a standout basketball player at Princeton University, where she completed her freshman season; Lauren Marie (17), and Lindsay Morgan (14).

DICK LEBEAU

Defensive Coordinator Second Season

Dick LeBeau is in the second year of his second tour of duty with the Steelers, for whom he experienced much success during the mid-1990s as both the team's defensive backs coach and defensive cooridnator.

Considered the architect of the Steelers' famed "zone blitz," LeBeau was named the Steelers' defensive coordinator on Jan. 16, 2004, after spending the 2003 season with the Buffalo Bills.

His impact on the coaching staff was profound as the Steelers returned to the top of the NFL in total defense and rushing defense.

LeBeau, 67, has been involved in the NFL for 47 years, 15 as a player and the past 32 as a coach.

Prior to his return to Pittsburgh, LeBeau served one year as the assistant head coach with the Buffalo Bills and the previous 2½ years as the head coach of the Cincinnati Bengals.

After six seasons in Pittsburgh from 1992-97, when he coached the secondary (1992-94) and then was defensive coordinator (1995-97), LeBeau returned to Cincinnati, where he resided, as the Bengals' assistant head coach/defensive coordinator (1997-2000). He was later promoted to head coach Sept. 25, 2000, (after three games) and served in that capacity for two more seasons.

LeBeau began his coaching career as an assistant coach for the Philadelphia Eagles from 1973-75. He also was an assistant coach at Green Bay (1976-79) and Cincinnati (1980-83), before serving his first term as the Bengals' defensive coordinator from 1984-91.

Prior to entering the coaching ranks, LeBeau produced an outstanding pro career from which he still holds the NFL all-time record of 171 consecutive games for a cornerback and currently is tied for seventh all-time in the NFL with 62 career interceptions. His nine interceptions in 1970 led the NFC and his 62 career interceptions ranked third in the NFL at the time of his retirement. LeBeau also appeared in three Pro Bowls.

LeBeau was born Sept. 9, 1937, in London, Ohio. He and his wife Nancy have one son, Brandon Grant.

Promoted to his new position Jan. 20, 2004, after serving the previous three years as the team's tight ends coach, Whisenhunt is in his ninth season as an NFL coach.

The Steelers showed significant improvement in 2004 under Whisenhunt while re-establishing their proud running attack. Overall, the Steelers' offense improved from 22nd in the NFL to 16th in 2004, but the rushing attack finished second in the NFL compared to 31st from the previous season.

A graduate of Georgia Tech, Whisenhunt played nine seasons as a tight end/H-Back for the Atlanta Falcons (1985-88), Washington Redskins (1989-90) and New York Jets (1991-93). He caught 62 passes for 601 yards and six TDs and earned a reputation as a well-rounded tight end and special teams player.

Whisenhunt finished his Georgia Tech career ranked second on the Yellow Jackets' all-time receiving yardage list (1,264 yards) and fourth in career receptions (82). He was a consensus All-Atlantic Coast Conference and honorable mention All-America selection as a senior in 1984 when he averaged 19.1 yards-per-catch.

He also helped develop nose tackle Chris Hoke, who filled in sensationally for an injured Hampton during the 2004 season.

Mitchell's early years in coaching were spent studying under two of college football's greatest coaches. Safety

When it comes to your driving safety, make the right call. If your car has more than 50,000 miles on it, have your shocks checked as part of a Monroe Safety Triangle Inspection. • Why? Because worn shocks can compromise your car's handling and stopping ability. And since shocks degrade gradually, you may not even be aware that they've failed. • So, next time you're in, ask your local Monroe dealer for a Safety Triangle Inspection. It's a sure way to stay ahead of the game.

BRAIN MEET BRAWN.

At long last, the days of sand being kicked in one's face are over. The learned and muscular are now joined at the hip, and even the shoulder for that matter, thanks to the introduction of Strive's patented Smart Strength technology. The genius behind the system? Well, unlike conventional weight machines that employ the same tension throughout the entire workout, Smart Strength enables you to work the entire muscle through its use of Adjustable-Variable Resistance, which means shorter, more effective workouts. Simply put, Strive is setting the new standard in strength and fitness. It may not be rocket science, but it'll definitely have you thinking differently about how strong you could be.

Strive Smart Strength is the #1 Choice of the Pittsburgh Steelers in Strength Equipment.

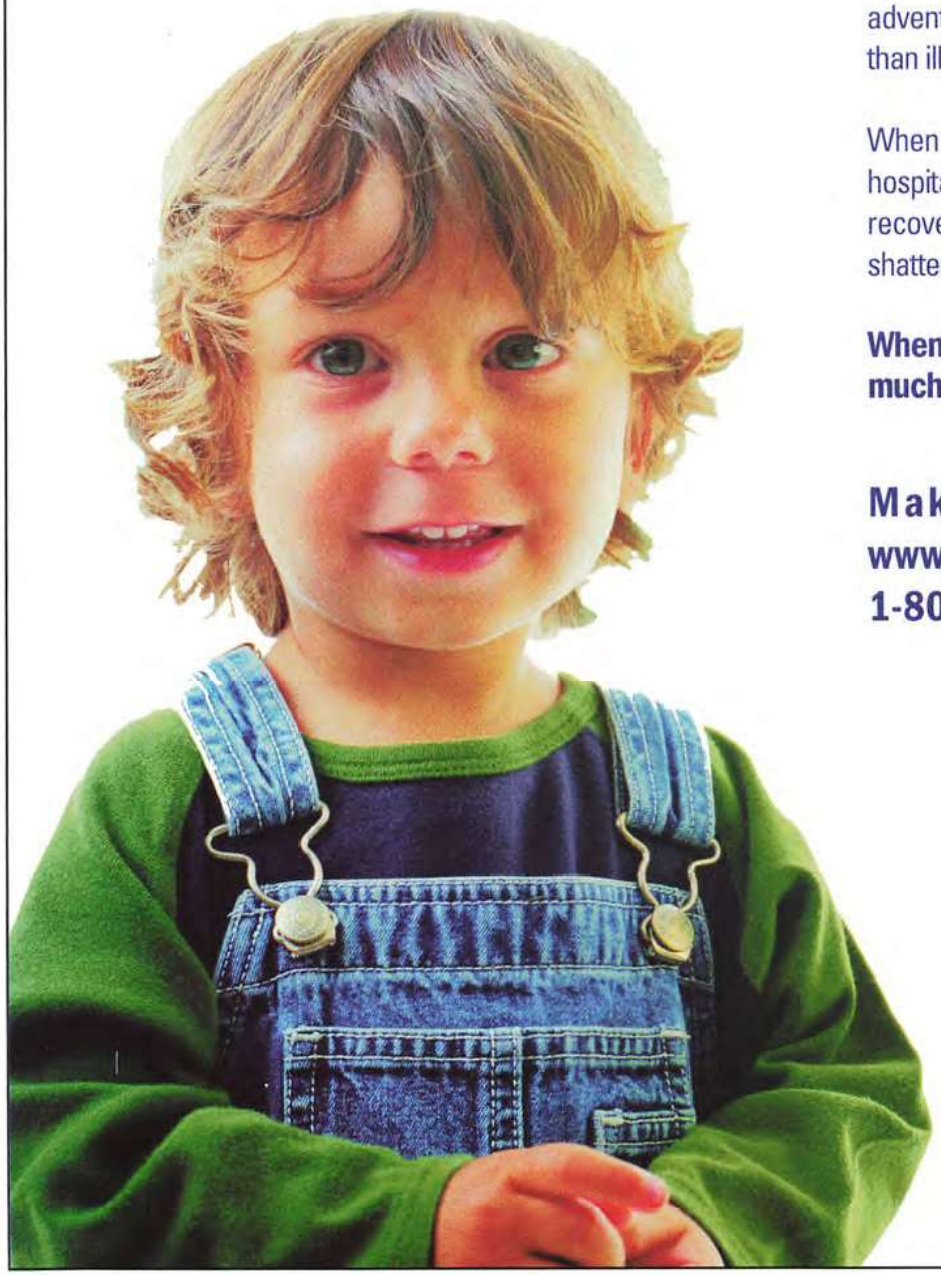
Believe In Tomorrow™
National Children's Foundation

92% reaches the kids. 100% reaches your heart.



When 92% of each dollar goes directly to programs, you are making some child's life more bearable.

When you take their minds off pain and refocus it on adventure, they suddenly realize there's more to life than illness.

When you help build, donate or equip retreat and hospital housing for these children, you speed their recovery and restore some sense of normalcy to shattered families.

When kids believe in tomorrow they are that much closer to having one.

Make believing possible.

Steelers

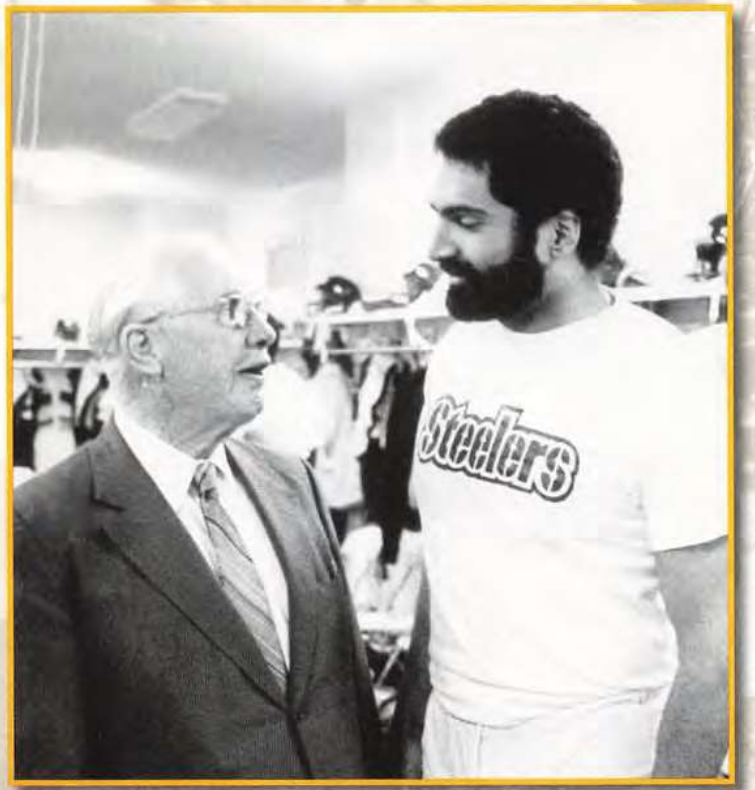
PITTSBURGH STEELERS HISTORY

The fifth-oldest franchise in the NFL, the Steelers were founded on July 8, 1933, by Arthur Joseph Rooney. Originally named the Pittsburgh Pirates, they were a member of the Eastern Division of the 10-team NFL. The other four current NFL teams in existence at that time were the Chicago (Arizona) Cardinals, Green Bay Packers, Chicago Bears and New York Giants.

One of the great pioneers of the sports world, Art Rooney passed away on August 25, 1988 following a stroke at the age of 87. "The Chief," as he was affectionately known, is enshrined in the Pro Football Hall of Fame and is remembered as one of Pittsburgh's great people.

Born on January 27, 1901 in Coultersville, Pa., Art Rooney was the oldest of Daniel and Margaret Rooney's nine children. He grew up in Old Allegheny, now known as Pittsburgh's North Side, and until his death he lived on the North Side just a short distance from Three Rivers Stadium.

Rooney attended St. Peter's Parochial School and Duquesne University Prep School. He studied collegiately at Indiana (Pa.) Normal, which is now Indiana University of Pennsylvania, as well as at Georgetown and Duquesne.



Art Rooney, Sr. with Franco Harris

An exceptional all-around athlete, Rooney held middleweight and welterweight titles from the AAU Boxing Championships and was named to the U.S. Olympic Boxing Team in 1920, although he did not participate in the Olympic Games. He played minor league baseball from 1920-25 before a promising career was cut short by an arm injury. Rooney continued playing football for several semi-pro teams in the Pittsburgh area. He was married on June 11, 1931 to Kathleen McNulty, and the couple had five sons — Daniel, Art Jr., Tim, John and Pat. In 1964, Rooney was inducted into the Pro Football Hall of Fame for his contributions to the growth of the NFL and the Pittsburgh Steelers.

By the mid-1960s, Steelers founder Art Rooney had begun to turn over much of the operation of the Steelers to his oldest son, Dan. After having worked in every area of the organization since 1955, Daniel M. Rooney was named president of the Steelers in 1975. In 2000, Dan Rooney was inducted into the Pro Football Hall of Fame. He joined his his father Art to form only the second father-son tandem to be inducted into the Hall of Fame. New York Giants owner Wellington Mara and his father Tim were the first.

Now in his 50th year with the organization, he is one of the most active NFL owners and one of Pittsburgh's most involved executives in civic affairs. Among his community activities, Dan Rooney is a board member for The United Way of America, The American Ireland Fund, The American Diabetes Association, Presbyterian University Hospital, The Pittsburgh History and Landmarks Foundation and Duquesne University.

Dan Rooney has been a member of several NFL committees over the past 30-plus years. He has served on the board of directors for the NFL Trust Fund, NFL Films and the Scheduling Committee. He was appointed chairman of the Expansion Committee in 1973, which considered new franchise locations and directed the addition of Seattle and Tampa Bay as expansion teams in 1976.

In 1976 Rooney was also named chairman of the Negotiating Committee, and in 1982 he contributed to the negotiations for the Collective Bargaining Agreement for the NFL and the Players' Association. He again played a key role in the labor agreement reached between NFL owners and players in 1993. Rooney was also largely responsible for developing the realignment plan and scheduling format that the NFL adopted prior to the 2002 season. In October 2002, he was named chairman of the NFL's Diversity in the Workplace Committee. Rooney is also a member of the eight-person Management Council Executive Committee, the Hall of Fame Committee, and the NFL Properties Executive Committee. In February 1999, he was named the recipient of the Philadelphia Maxwell Football Club's Francis J. "Reds" Bagnell Award for outstanding contributions to the game of football.

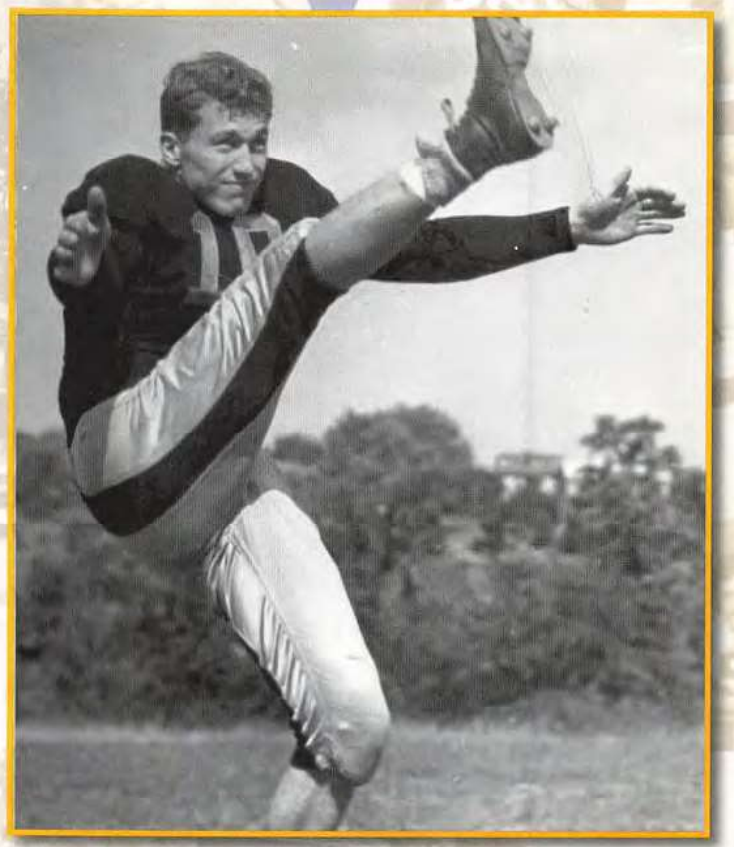
Daniel M. Rooney was born on Pittsburgh's North Side on July 20, 1932. He is a 1950 graduate of North Catholic High School, where he played quarterback on the varsity football team. He went on to graduate from Duquesne University in 1955 with a bachelor of arts degree in accounting. Rooney and his wife Patricia live on the North Side. The Rooneys have nine children.

In 2002, Dan Rooney officially turned over the title of Steelers' team president to his oldest son, Art Rooney II, who had previously served as the team's vice presdent and general counsel. Art II also previously served as Chairman of the Board of Klett Rooney Lieber & Schorling, Attorneys at Law. A 1978 graduate of the University of Pittsburgh where he majored in political science, Art II received his law degree from Duquesne University School of Law in 1982. He and his wife Greta have four children.

1930s: After founding the Pirates in 1933, Art Rooney watched his club struggle through its first seven seasons with just 22 wins and five different head coaches. While home games were played at Forbes Field, Rooney often took his team to such cities as Johnstown, Latrobe, Youngstown, New Orleans, and Louisville in the 1930s due to competition with baseball and college football.

In 1938 Rooney signed Colorado All-America Byron "Whizzer" White to a $15,800 contract, making White the first "big money" player in the NFL. White led the league in rushing that year and became one of the NFL's most illustrious alumni. He served 31 years as a Justice of the



Bryon "Whizzer" White

United States Supreme Court before retiring in 1993.

1940s: In 1940 Rooney changed the team name to the Pittsburgh Steelers, representing the heritage of Pittsburgh. The first winning record in the organization's history came in 1942 when head coach Walt Kiesling led the Steelers to a 7-4 finish with the league-leading rushing of rookie Bill Dudley. But the next year Dudley joined the Armed Forces along with many other NFL players as the nation went to war. With rosters depleted, Rooney merged the Steelers with the Philadelphia Eagles in 1943 (Phil-Pitt "Steagles") and with the Chicago Cardinals (Card-Pitt) in 1944.

Rooney hired legendary Pitt coach Jock Sutherland in 1946, and Dudley returned from the war to earn NFL MVP honors, leading the league in rushing, interceptions, and punt returns. Today, Dudley is a member of the Pro Football Hall of Fame.

Sutherland led the 1947 Steelers to an 8-4 record and a share of the Eastern division title, but they lost their first-ever postseason game, 21-0, to Philadelphia. Sutherland died suddenly the following spring while on a scouting trip.

Coach Buddy Parker

1950s: Succeeding Sutherland, John Michelosen was head coach for the 1948-51 seasons, compiling a 20-26-2 record. In 1952 Joe Bach returned for his second stint with the Steelers, having coached the team previously in 1935-36. The Steelers became the last team to abandon the single wing for the T-formation in 1952.

Bach resigned for health reasons following the 1954 season and was replaced by assistant coach Walt Kiesling, who had been the Steelers' head coach twice previously. Kiesling's three stints covered the 1939-40, 1941-44, and 1954-56 campaigns.

1960s: Buddy Parker was named head coach in 1957 and over the next eight years he led the Steelers to five non-losing seasons. Hall of Fame quarterback Bobby Layne quarterbacked the team through three of those campaigns, leading the Steelers to a 9-5 mark and a playoff game vs. Detroit in 1962, which the Steelers lost 17-10. Parker completed his tenure with a 51-48-6 record and ranks third among all-time Steelers coaches for career wins.

On October 25, 1964, the Steelers made team history when they retired jersey No. 70 in honor of former defensive tackle Ernie Stautner. Stautner, who was inducted into the Pro Football Hall of Fame in 1969, remains the only Steelers player to have his jersey retired.

Brief head coaching stints by Mike Nixon in 1965 and Bill Austin from 1966-68 preceded the hiring of the 37-year-old Chuck Noll on January 27, 1969. Noll began to rebuild the Steelers through the draft, starting with the defense when he selected defensive tackle Joe Greene with his first choice in 1969. Today Greene is a member of the Pro Football Hall of Fame.

1970s: A 1-13 record in 1969 gave the Steelers the first overall choice in the 1970 draft, with which Noll addressed the offense by selecting quarterback Terry Bradshaw, another Hall of Famer, after the Steelers won the first selection by winning a coin toss with the Chicago Bears. Cornerback Mel Blount was added in the third round that year, followed by linebacker Jack Ham in 1971 and running back Franco Harris in 1972. In all, Noll drafted nine players who are now enshrined in the Hall of Fame including three in his first 20 picks and four of his first 38.

Two significant changes took place in 1970. The Steelers moved from the NFL Century Division to the AFC Central with the merger of the American Football League and the NFL. The Steelers also moved into a new home as Three Rivers Stadium opened. Previously, the Steelers had played home games at Forbes Field from 1933-57 and at both Forbes Field and Pitt Stadium from 1958-63. From 1964-69 the Steelers played at Pitt Stadium until Three Rivers opened in 1970.

Gradual improvement in the early 1970s resulted in the team's first division title in 1972 with an 11-3 record. In the first playoff game at Three Rivers the Steelers defeated the Oakland Raiders 13-7 with Franco Harris'"Immaculate Reception" in the final minute. Despite a 21-17 loss the following week to the undefeated Miami Dolphins, the Steelers had reached a new plateau.

It took 40 years for the Steelers to finally win their first division title, but over the next decade they achieved a level of success unprecedented in professional football.

In 1973 the Steelers won a wild card playoff berth with a 10-4 record. Oakland avenged their loss from the previous year, however, with a 33-14 defeat of the Steelers in the playoffs.

The Steelers won their first of six consecutive AFC Central titles in 1974 and marched past Buffalo (32-14) and Oakland (24-13) en route to their first Super Bowl appearance in Super Bowl IX. The fierce Pittsburgh defense led the way to a 16-6 victory vs. the Minnesota Vikings, and Art Rooney was presented the Vince Lombardi Trophy for the first time.

In 1975 the Steelers won 11 straight games to finish 12-2 and claim their second consecutive division crown. After defeating Baltimore (28-10) and Oakland (16-10) in the playoffs the Steelers became the third team in NFL history, joining Green Bay and Miami, to win back-to-back Super Bowls with a 21-17 win versus the Dallas Cowboys in Super Bowl X.

The 1976 Steelers struggled to a 1-4 start before reeling off nine straight victories including five shutouts to win the division with a 10-4 mark. They defeated Baltimore 40-14 in the playoffs, but lost to Oakland, 24-7, after both starting running backs, Franco Harris and Rocky Bleier, were injured. The following year the Steelers dropped a 34-21 decision to Denver in the first round of the playoffs after posting a 9-5 regular-season record.

Terry Bradshaw

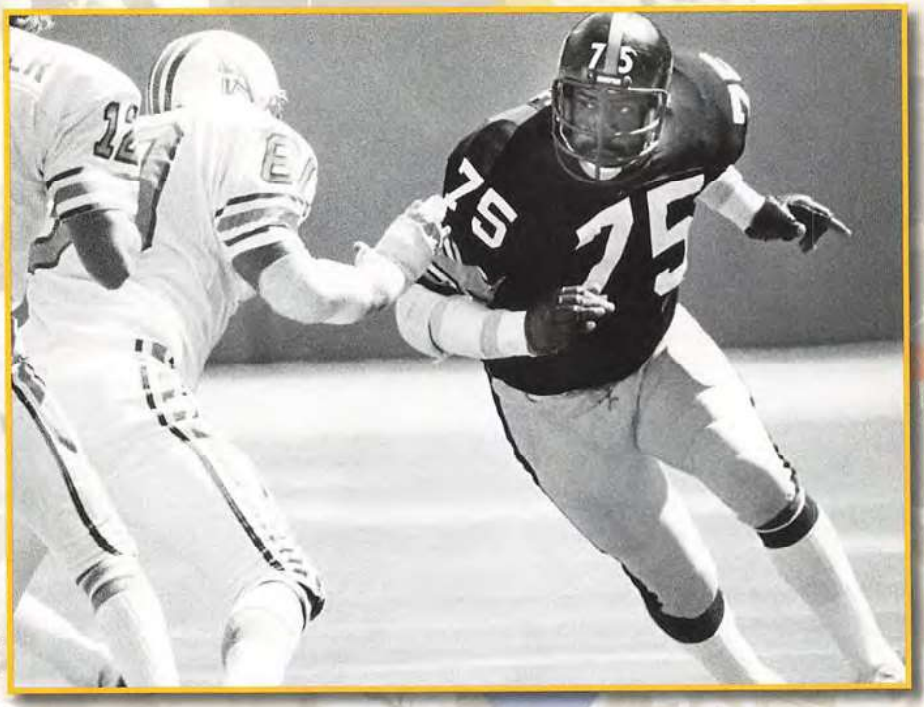
In 1978 the Steelers made history after a league-best 14-2 regular season and playoff wins versus Denver (33-10) and Houston (34-5). Their 35-31 Super Bowl XIII win versus Dallas made the Steelers the first team to win three Super Bowls.

Yet another standard was set the following year when the 1979 Steelers defeated the Los Angeles Rams, 31-19, in Super Bowl XIV to make them the first team in history to win four Super Bowls and the only team to win back-to-back Super Bowls twice. The Super Bowl victory followed a 12-4 regular season and playoff wins versus Miami (34-14) and Houston (27-13). With six consecutive AFC Central crowns, eight straight years of playoff appearances and four Super Bowl championships, the Steelers were tagged the "Team of the Decade" for the 1970s.



Joe Greene

Mel Blount

1980s: As the 1980s opened the Steelers stumbled, failing to make the playoffs in 1980 and 1981 with records of 9-7 and 8-8.

In 1982 the Steelers celebrated the team's 50th anniversary by qualifying for the playoffs with a 6-3 finish in a strike-interrupted season. During the season an anniversary banquet was held to commemorate the team's first 50 seasons and to honor the Steelers' all-time team as selected by fan voting. Thousands of fans were attracted to Pittsburgh for a week of activities and exhibits before the anniversary season was ended by San Diego's 31-28 win in the playoffs. This would be the last playoff game at Three Rivers until the 1992 season, a span of 10 years.

The 1983 Steelers won their eighth division title with a 10-6 record, but fell in the postseason, 38-10, to the Los Angeles Raiders. The following year the Steelers won their ninth division crown and the team advanced to the AFC Championship game with a 24-17 playoff win at Denver. A 45-28 loss to Miami in the AFC Championship game prevented the Steelers from a fifth Super Bowl appearance.

The Steelers' streak of 13 consecutive non-losing seasons came to an end in 1985 with a 7-9 finish, followed by 6-10 in 1986. Playoff hopes remained alive in 1987 until the Steelers lost their last two games to finish 8-7 during the strike-shortened season.

In 1988 the team suffered through its worst campaign in 19 years with a 5-11 record. The next season got off to a similar start with losses of 51-0 and 41-10 in the first two games as the offense failed to score in the first month of the season. But the young team fought back to finish 9-7 and earn a wild card playoff berth on the season's final weekend. An exciting 26-23 overtime playoff win in Houston was followed by a heartbreaking 24-23 divisional playoff loss at Denver in which the Steelers led until the final minutes.

1990s: A 9-7 finish in 1990 left the Steelers in a three-way tie for the AFC Central lead, but they were eliminated from playoff contention by a 2-4 division record. The 1991 team finished second in the division despite a 7-9 record, winning the last two games under Noll at home against the Cincinnati Bengals and Cleveland Browns.

On December 26, 1991 Noll announced his retirement from football after 39 consecutive seasons, the last 23 as the Steelers' head coach which made him one of only four men to coach the same team for 23 consecutive years. He left as the fifth-winningest coach in NFL history with an overall record of 209-156-1, and as the only coach to win four Super Bowls. Noll was rewarded in 1993 with his election to the Hall of Fame in his first year of eligibility.

A new era began in 1992 with the retirement of Noll and the arrival of 34-year-old Bill Cowher, the National Football League's youngest head coach at the time he assumed control. In the first season of the new era, the Steelers won the AFC Central division crown for the first time since 1984 with an 11-5 record. While the team enjoyed new-found success, Cowher was recognized by the Associated Press as the NFL's Coach of the Year and six Steelers played in the Pro Bowl, the most in more than a decade.

Under Cowher the Steelers became the first AFC team since the 1970 merger to claim its 10th division title. Their 11-5 record equaled the best in the conference and gave the Steelers home field advantage throughout the playoffs. However, in the first postseason game at Three Rivers in exactly 10 years the Steelers were defeated by eventual AFC champion Buffalo, 24-3.

In 1993, the Steelers earned a wild card playoff berth, marking their first consecutive playoff appearances since the 1983-84 seasons. A 9-7 record was good for second place in the division, but the season ended in a 27-24 overtime loss at Kansas City in the AFC Wild Card game.

The 1994 Steelers won seven of their final eight regular-season games for their strongest finish since 1978. They captured their second division title in three years with the AFC's best record of 12-4. After a 29-9 victory over the Cleveland Browns in the first round of the playoffs, Pittsburgh hosted their first AFC Championship game since 1979. The game went down to the wire and the Steelers lost to the San Diego Chargers, 17-13.

At 38, Bill Cowher became the youngest head coach to lead his team to a Super Bowl. Along the way, Cowher's team captured their third AFC Central division title in four years, made their fourth straight playoff appearance, and won the Steelers' first AFC title since 1979. After a first-round bye, they defeated the Buffalo Bills (40-21) and the Indianapolis Colts (20-16), before losing to the Dallas Cowboys, 27-17, in Super Bowl XXX in Tempe, Arizona.

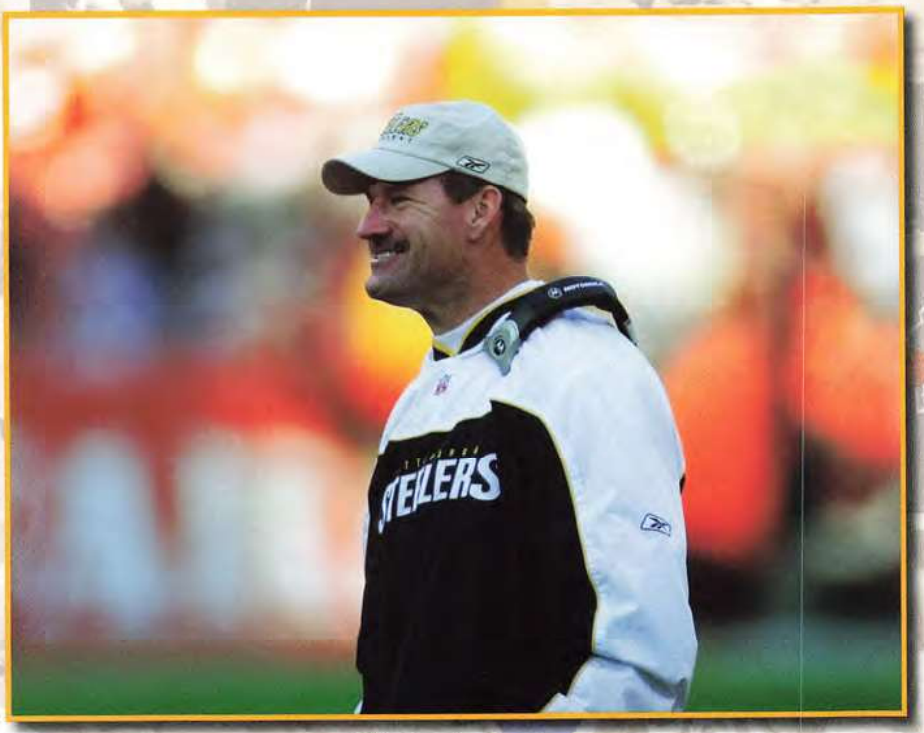
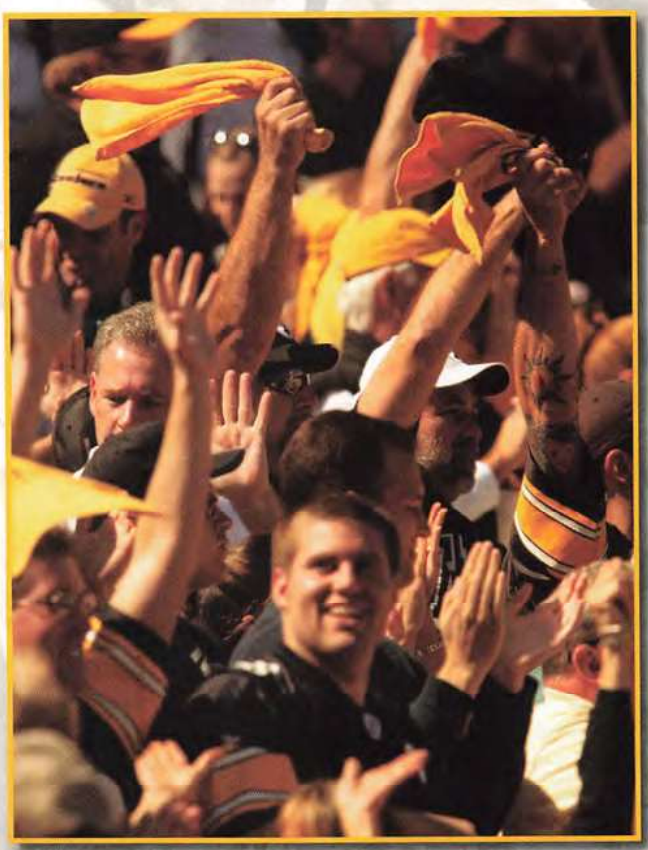
In 1996, injuries forced Cowher to use 40 different starters during the course of the season. But the Steelers' "never-say-die" attitude led to a 10-6 finish and their fifth consecutive trip to the playoffs. Cowher earned his 50th regular-season win Nov. 3, 1996 in his 73rd game to become the eighth fastest to reach 50 wins. He ended the season with 57 career victories ranking him as the second winningest coach in team history, behind his predecessor Noll.



Bill Cowher



The Steelers captured their fourth consecutive AFC Central title in 1997, while posting an 11-5 record. They were one play away from earning their sixth Super Bowl appearance and lost to Denver, 24-21, in the AFC Championship game.

In 1998, the Steelers finished a disappointing 7-9, losing their last five regular-season games and missing the playoffs for the first time under Bill Cowher. It marked the first time that Cowher had been associated with a team with a losing record during his 14-year coaching career.

The Steelers suffered their second consecutive losing season under Cowher in 1999, when their record fell to 6-10, including a six-game losing streak. The Steelers fourth-place finish in the AFC Central was the team's worst finish under Bill Cowher.

2000s: The Steelers began a new century with a renewed commitment. After starting the 2000 season with an 0-3 record, the Steelers rebounded to finish the year at 9-7, and barely missed their seventh postseason appearance under Cowher.

However, 2000 may be remembered most for being the final season for the Steelers at Three Rivers Stadium. The Steelers were 4-4 during their final season at Three Rivers Stadium, including victories in four of their final six home games. The Steelers won their final game at Three Rivers, 24-3, against the Washington Redskins on Dec. 16.

The Steelers finished 31 seasons at Three Rivers Stadium (1970-2000) with a 182-73 home record, including the postseason. The Steelers recorded their largest regular-season home attendance figures (440,428) since 1998 in the final season, including a season-high 58,183 fans during the final game in stadium history.

The Steelers began a new era in team history in 2001 with the opening of their new stadium, Heinz Field. The Steelers posted an AFC-best 13-3 regular-season record, including a 7-1 mark at home, and advanced to the AFC Championship Game.

The inaugural game at Heinz Field was originally scheduled to be a nationally televised Sunday Night game on Sept. 16. However, the September 11 terrorist attacks on America forced the NFL to postpone all games that weekend — which were eventually rescheduled for the end of the season. As a result, the Steelers opened Heinz Field on Sunday, Oct. 7 with a 16-7 win against the Cincinnati Bengals.

The Steelers defeated the defending Super Bowl Champion Baltimore Ravens, 27-10, in the AFC Divisional Playoffs, in the first-ever postseason game played at Heinz Field. However, they suffered a disappointing, 24-17, loss at home in the AFC Championship game to the eventual Super Bowl-champion New England Patriots.

The Steelers entered the 2002 season with high hopes and Super Bowl aspirations. After a 0-2 start, the Steelers rallied to make the playoffs for the second consecutive season and the eighth time under Cowher. However, the team's Super Bowl hopes ended when they lost, 34-31, in overtime to the Tennessee Titans on the road.

The Steelers began the 2003 season with a 34-15 victory against AFC North rival Baltimore Ravens. However, the team never regained that magic and finished the season with a 6-10 record and out of the playoffs for the first time in three years.

The Steelers set a team record in 2004 by becoming the first AFC team to win 15 games (15-1) in the regular season. They ultimately advanced to the AFC Championship Game where they lost to the New England Patriots, 41-27. Nine Steelers were selected to play in the AFC-NFC Pro Bowl, the teams most since the 1979 season.
